Meet the Director

ALAIN LEMIEUX'S professional experience spans 25 years, from the NHL to the successful development of highly notable camps and clinics across North America.

Drafted by the St. Louis Blues in the early eighties, Alain's offensive skills became widely recognized throughout the NHL, resulting in a six year career with the Blues and the Quebec Nordiques.

Upon his retirement, Alain successfully blended his experience in the NHL with the demand for developmental youth hockey programs in cities throughout the country. The result, a defined program of skill strengthening, with over 15 years of success in both the United States and Canada. This highly sought expertise led to the creation of numerous projects which have had tremendous following and have brought in such recognizable names as Luc Robitaille, Ken Wregget, Steve Duchesne, Jay Caufield, Dave Hannan, and most significantly, brother and Hockey Hall of Fame superstar, Mario Lemieux.

Alain Lemieux is currently Director of Hockey Operations for the Amateur Pens Organization and Head Coach of the 96 PeeWee AAA team.
